There are several steps to finding the desired Scientific article. First of all, you need to enter the university website www.eu.edu.ge. In the part of the library, you will find "Mental bases"

The screenshot shows a web browser window with multiple tabs. The active tab is "Scientific bases | European Unive...". The address bar shows the URL <https://eu.edu.ge/en/Scientific%20bases>. The website header features the European University logo and name in Georgian and English, along with social media icons and a search bar. The main navigation menu includes links for ABOUT US, FACULTIES, FOR STUDENTS, FOR ENTRANTS, RESEARCH, INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS, and CONTACT. A dropdown menu is open under "ABOUT US", showing options like UNIVERSITY, MISSION, VISION AND VALUES, STRUCTURE, STRATEGIC DOCUMENTS, QUALITY ASSURANCE, LEGAL ACTS, STAFF, LIBRARY, and INNOVATIVE TEACHING. A red arrow points to the "SCIENTIFIC BASES" link in the dropdown menu. The right sidebar contains a "LIBRARY" section with links for "ABOUT LIBRARY" and "SCIENTIFIC BASES". Below this, there is a photo of a woman with glasses and a laptop, with a "019" badge. The main content area displays text about Scopus.com, ScienceDirect.com, and Fundinginstitutional.com, followed by a section titled "EBSCO - Databases".

Scopus.com is Elsevier's abstract and citation database launched in 2004. Scopus covers nearly 36,377 titles from approximately 11,678 publishers, of which 34,346 are peer-reviewed journals in top-level subject fields: life sciences, social sciences, physical sciences. It covers three types of sources: book series, journals, and trade journals. All journals covered in the Scopus database, regardless of who they are published under, are reviewed each year to ensure high-quality standards are maintained. Scopus gives four types of quality measures for each title: those are h-index, CiteScore, SJR, and SNIP.

ScienceDirect.com is a website that provides subscription-based access to a large database of scientific and medical research. ScienceDirect is operated by the Anglo-Dutch publisher Elsevier. It was launched in March 1997. It hosts over 12 million pieces of content from 3,500 academic journals and 34,000 e-books. The journals are grouped into four main sections: Physical Sciences and Engineering, Life Sciences, Health Sciences, and Social Sciences and Humanities. Article abstracts are freely available, but access to their full texts (in PDF and, for newer publications, also HTML) generally requires a subscription pay-per-view purchase.

Fundinginstitutional.com informs your research program strategy by helping you find active, accurate funding opportunities promptly from nearly 3,000 government and private funding organizations, and by offering insight into research that has already been funded in your area of interest.

The box is displayed where we write a topic, subject, book or journal title, or just a word/rubric and click the button to find

The screenshot shows the EBSCOhost Basic Search interface. At the top, there is a navigation bar with links for 'New Search', 'Subjects', 'Publications', 'Images', 'Company Profiles', and 'More'. On the right side of the bar are links for 'Sign In', 'Folder', 'Preferences', and 'Languages'. The main content area features the EBSCO logo and the text 'EUROPEAN UNIVERSITY'. Below this, it says 'Searching: MEDLINE, Show all | Choose Databases'. A search input box contains the placeholder text 'Enter any words to find books, journals and more'. To the right of the input box is a 'Search' button with a help icon. A red arrow points to the 'Search' button. Below the input box are links for 'Search Options', 'Basic Search', 'Advanced Search', and 'Search History'. At the bottom of the page, there is a footer with links for 'EBSCO Connect', 'Privacy Policy', 'A/B Testing', 'Terms of Use', 'Copyright', and 'Cookie Policy'. Below these links is the EBSCO logo and the text 'powered by EBSCOhost'. At the very bottom, it says '© 2021 EBSCO Industries, Inc. All rights reserved.'

Then we will see all the books, journals, or articles, offered by the base, which concerns the topic we have searched for.

You can filter them by the filters in the left corner of the web site, which help you choose the desired period of time, type of information, language, etc.

The screenshot shows a web browser window with a search engine interface. The search term 'neurology' is entered in the search bar. The results page displays two main entries:
